Governor's Cabinet Secretary Tours the Wytheville State Surplus Property Retail Store On Thursday

~ State Agencies, Localities, and Citizens Can Purchase Pre-Owned Items, Including Items Confiscated From Airports ~

WHAT: Tour of the Department of General Services, Surplus Property Store/Warehouse located in Wytheville, Virginia

A tour with the Secretary of Administration, Nancy Rodrigues will be conducted of the Department of General Services (DGS) Surplus Property Store/Warehouse located in Wytheville, Virginia with state agency, local government, and general public customers. During the tour, information will be shared on how this store and the entire DGS Surplus Property Program helps state agencies, local government, citizens of Virginia, and qualified non-profits.

WHEN: Thursday, June 19, 2014, 10:00 a.m.

WHERE: Wytheville Surplus Property Store/Warehouse, Wytheville Shopping Plaza
800 E. Main Street
Wytheville, VA 24382

WHY: Nancy Rodrigues, Secretary of Administration is visiting the Wytheville Surplus Property Store; a successful state program that has benefitted localities and has helped Virginians. Operated by the Virginia Department of General Services, the Surplus Property Store/Warehouse located in Wytheville is the State's only Surplus Property facility that operates as a retail store. State property that has met its useful life and is no longer needed by state agencies or local governments is sold to citizens of the Commonwealth in a retail store environment. In addition, to the wide variety of state property available at the Wytheville Surplus Property store, the store also receives property collected by the Transportation Safety Administration (TSA) at airports across the country. The TSA property is a favorite of store customers because of the unique items available for purchase.
